SETTIC PITCHES WELL IN THE FACE OF POOR SUPPORT-A RALLY IN THE SEVENTH

INNING SAVES THE DAY FOR THE LOCAL TEAM.

The New-York and Pittsburg teams began their final series of games together at the Polo Grounds yesterday, the home team winning by a raily at the bat, assisted by several glaring errors in the seventh inning. Then, as it was too dark to play longer, the umpire ended the comedy of blunders. The contest was poorly played on both sides, and it was devoid of any particularly interesting features. Gettig pitched in good form in the face of indifferent support.

The Pittsburg men got their first run on a collision between Davis and Gleason, an error by Gleason and a base hit. In the fifth three errors, a wild pitch and two singles netted them four more, while in the seventh two more of the Pirates came while in the seventh two more of the Pirates came over the plate on a little jumper over Joyce's head and a wild pitch, a fumble by Gettig, a base on balls and a hit to left field.

In the New-York team's half of the seventh Warner got to first on an error by Davis, and completed the circuit on Joyce's three-base hit to centre field. Gettig made a two-base hit to left field, and Joyce came in. Van Haltren was easily out, second to first, but Gettig stood on third. McCreery sent a roller to Ely, of which the shortstop made an error. Gettig tallying, while McCreery went to second. Tiernan hit for a two-bagger and McCreery scored. Rothfuss muffed the throw to stop Davis at first, and Gleason sent a little bounder to second, which forced Tiernan at the plate. Two men were out and two men on bases when Davis and Gleason worked a double steal, and the rooters went wild with joy. They called upon Clark to hit the ball, and he responded with a hit to right, which brought the two over the rubber, while he was retired at eccond trying to stretch the hit. O Day then called the game.

CINCINNATI DEFEATS BROOKLYN. DWYER, THE RED PITCHER, AT HIS BEST-A

WELL-PLAYED GAME LOST BY 4 TO 2. Cincinnati won a well-played game from Brooklyn at Eastern Park yesterday afternoon. Dwyer, who was in the box for the visiting team, was at his best. Dunn was hit hard, but with proper sup-port would probably have won his game, A. Smith's catch of Miller's fly in the first inning was the best play of the game. The score: BROOKLYN.

CLEARING HOUSE EXCHANGES.

THE LARGEST IN MORE THAN A YEAR-AN-OTHER ADVANCE IN WHEAT-EXPORT SALES REPORTED ABOVE ONE MILLION BUSHELS.

The exchanges at the New-York Clearing House yesterday were $180.883,310. These were the largest exchanges in more than a year and furnished good evidence of the expansion of general business. For some time the exchanges have been increasing. Export sales of wheat vesterday were reported to be in excess of one million bushels. price for December wheat on the New-York Produce Exchange was $100% a bushel, and the closing price was $100%, which was a gain of % cent from the final price on Tuesday. The gain in September wheat was % cent. There was a loss of % cent in December and % cent in September corn.

Dealings in stocks were again on a large scale yesterday. For most of the stocks on the active list material gains were recorded. Some of the net advances, comparing the closing prices with those of Tucsday, were: Atchison preferred, 1½: Big Four preferred, 2; Consolidated Gas, 5; Delaware and Hudson, 1; Detroit Gas, 1; Illinois Central, 2½; Laciede Gas preferred, 1½; National Lead common, 2; National Lead preferred, 3; Western Union Beef, 1; Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred, 2½.

SIGNS OF BETTER TIMES.

WHAT ASSISTANT SECRETARY DAVIS SAW ON A RECENT TRIP IN OHIO AND PENNSYLVANIA.

Washington, Sept. 8 (Special).-Webster Davis, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, has just returned from a short trip into Ohio and Pennsylvania. When asked to-day as to the outlook for better times in Ohio and Pennsylvania, Mr. Davis Times are surely growing better. Everybody I met in Ohio seemed to be feeling good; their hearts were light and their faces smiling, for the granaries on the old farms were full to overflowing, the trees in the orchards were bending low under their weight of inscious fruit and the cattle were fat and sleek. In the cities the merchants, wholesale and retail, were all busy, and complaining of their inability to supply the demands of their customers. The railroads are busy carrying cattle and grain. The smoke of the furnaces and the whistles of the mills and factories teld the pleasant story of the thousands who honestly desired employment having once again found work. In Pennsylvania all seemed activity again. Pittsburg and Johnstown seemed perfect bechives of industry. At night-time the sky was aglow Pittsburg and Johnstown seemed perfect becalves of industry. At hight-time the sky was askiow with the light of their furnaces, and on every hand could be seen the rugged workmen, black with the stains of honest toll, happy in their work and thankful for the many substantial evidences of returning prosperity. The mines, too, are in operation. The farmers in the valleys and on the hill-sides are rejoicing because of the good prices they are receiving for the products of their labor, for the farmers get good prices when working people have employment and are earning something. The American people always eat well when they have money to pay for what they eat, but it is very difficult for men who are out of employment to pay good prices for the products of the farms.

"How plain it is! Prosperous factories and mills make prosperous working men and women, and these, in turn, make prosperous and happy farmers. And when these are prosperous, then the merchants and professional people, the railroads, the steamship lines, the schools, the colleges and the churches are all prosperous. One thing seems especially gratifying, and that is the fact that nearly all the great newspapers and most of the patriotic men and women who are on principle opposed to the present Administration, are glad of the return of better times, and are willing to give credit to whom credit is justly due. They are patriots and partisans afterward. This is as it should be. Peace, happiness and prosperity for our country and our people first, and then other things."

SMITH AND PARKER TOGETHER FOR ONCE.

THE NEW COMMISSIONER VOTES AGAINST MOSS AND ANDREWS ON A CHANGE IN THE RULES. Colonel Smith, the new Police Commissioner, who has been working in harmony with Commissioners Moss and Andrews, surprised them yesterday by supporting Commissioner Parker in a demand for supporting Commissioner Parker in a demand for delay upon a proposed amendment to an important rule of the Department. Under that rule the police captains are required to make reports to the Chief of Police regarding disorderly houses, gambling houses, policy shops and other dens of vice in their precincts, and such reports are usually kept secret by the Chief. Commissioner Mass vest in their precincts, and such reports are usually kept secret by the Chief. Commissioner Moss yesterday wanted immediate action upon an amendment by which such reports by the cautains should the liquor-tax law and the laws and ordinance relating to the various crimes above mentioned and what arrests have been made in such cases." Mr. Parker wanted delay upon the amendment and asked to have it considered first by the Com-mittee on Rules and Discipline. To the surprise of the other Commissioners, Colonel Smith agreed with Mr. Parker and compelled the reference asked for. The proposed amendment to Rule 3c2, if adopted, would be the means of putting in Mr. adopted, would be the means of puring in airMoss's possession all the police information as to everything that is going on in the various precincts. It was whispered around headquarters yesterday that Mr. Moss was after some captains, and was waiting to have them put themselves on reord in reports.

After the meeting Colonel Smith and Mr. Moss had a mid argument in the Board room. Later

After the meeting Colonel Smith and Mr. Moss had a mild argument in the Board room. Later Colonel Smith said: "I have not disagreed with the other Commissioners. I do not believe, however, in rushing through important matters. A change in the rules of the Department is a matter of some importance, and should be fully considered by every Commissioner before being acted upon. I knew nothing about this proposed amendment, and while I may not object to it, I want to know something about it before I act. There is no disagreement between my colleagues and myself, but I want to do my own thinking."

Mr. Moss had this to say: "The object of this proposed amendment is to give the Board direct information about the condition of the precincts. The Board should have its own reports, and the Commissioners are entitled to know what a captain knows about his own precinct. There has been no disagreement between Colonel Smith and his colleagues."

REOPENING OF COOPER UNION SCHOOLS. The various schools of Cooper Union will reopen on October 1, and the assistant secretary, L. C. Jordan, is now receiving applications from pupils desiring to enter the different branches. Few changes have taken place during the recess. For the scientific class three rooms on the second floor of the Institute, heretofore used for business pur-poses, have been secured, and furnish accommodation for three sections of forty pupils each. The flooring of the physical lecture room has been rearranged so as to permit of a better observation of the exhibits used during the lectures, the seats having been placed on an inclined plane.

The Cooper Union Museum for the Arts of Decoration has been closed for a short time, and will be reopened on October 4.

An impression that the schools of Cooper Union were to be closed, arising from the offer of the trustees of the Union to the city of the facilities of the Union for high-school purposes, is said to have affected the number of applications for admission to the evening classes. Such report is

The action of the ice, which formerly ploughed its way down the valley, has ground these rocks to polished surfaces, the vertical faces supporting only a few lichens, while the horizontal benches, before the Hehens, while the horizontal benches, before the advent of the gold-stekers, were covered with a advent of the gold-seekers, were covered with a thick carpet of moss. Only in a few places are there pebbles or bowliers, and but few rock slides, but where these do exist the individual bowlders are so large that travel over them is more difficult than over the solid, unbroken benches.

FLED WITH CASH AND CHECKS.

A DISTRICT MESSENGER UNABLE TO RESIST TEMPTATION IN WALL STREET.

For some time Joseph W. Moucher, an American District Telegraph messenger, has been employed by the National Eark of Commerce, at Nassau and Cedar sts., to collect "outside drafts." or, in other words, drafts not collectable through the Clearing House. On Tuesday drafts for almost $10,000 were given to him to collect. As a rule, payments in ch cases are made by checks, and these are, of course, of no value except to those to whose order they are drawn. In making the collections yesterday, however, about $300 in cash was received by Moucher. The temptation to retain this money appears to have been so strong that the boy could not resist it, and he fied with the money. He also took with him the checks that had been given to him, and the drafts, which he had not collected.

M. W. Rayens, superintendent of the American District Telegraph Company, said yesterday: "Moucher entered our employ December 28, 18%. He was recommended by the principal of the school which he attended and by his Bunday-school teacher. He is sixteen years old, and lived with his parents at No. 26 Reid-ava., Brooklyn. I expect that he will be arrested before to-morrow morning. Our own detectives, as well as the police, are looking for him. Instances like the flight of Moucher are practically unknown with us. MR. MOODY'S TALK TO THE BOYS.

A SPIRITED ADDRESS AT THE OPENING OF MOUNT HERMON SCHOOL

East Northfield, Mass., Sept. 8 (Special).-Mr. Moody greeted the boys of Mount Hermon School at chapel exercises this morning, and preached a sermon on "Hope" at what he was pleased to call a reception for the seminary girls, which was held in the Auditorium this evening. The school opens with 325 boys, the full limit. When Mr. Moody stepped on the platform a hearty outburst of applause greeted him. Professor Cutler, the principal, said a few pleasant words, explaining the rules, which he said were not intended to be a bard nor to irritate or chafe a single boy. They had been formulated for the purpose of helping one another, and if any student found any rule a hindrance he should consult the faculty in regard to it. Reference was made to one rule only, that against smoking. Walving for the time the question of smoking in itself being a sin, Professor Cut-ler said that after a student came to Mount Hermon, having promised not to smoke, it would be a sin for him to do so.

Then Mr. Moody took the platform. The singing did not wholly satisfy him, and there were empty chairs in the front row. Aside from carnal sins, the things that trouble him most are vacant chairin front and singing that is not hearty.

"Pull yourselves together," he said, with a show of earnestness. "There are a good many new men of earnestness. "There are a good many new men here to-day. When you sing, sing; when you talk, talk; when you study, study; when you play, play. Taking up the question of tobacco, after he had niled the empty chairs, he said that the rules were made for the benefit of all the students. A man could not use tobacco when it was against the rule to do so without having a guilty conscience. A guilty conscience. A guilty conscience. A guilty conscience. A guilty conscience, he added, prevented one from doing his best work.

"You want," he declared, "to root out deception, we are by nature deceitful—the whole crowd of us. Now start right, and then keep right. You ask how that should be done. There are three things that lead to repentance—conviction, contrition and confession. If you have done wrong, if you have been a stumbling block to any one, get right. God deals with man through his conscience, as a mother deals with her child through its conscience. God pity the young man whose conscience is seared. A man can will to do right of he can will to do wrong. If any of you have made up your mind that you are going to go wrong, we don't want you here. You had better pack your trunk and go off on the first train. You will get no good from us, and Meunt Hermon will be an injury, not a benefit, to you. I do not mean by that that you will have to be saints if you stay here, but I do want you to get right."

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

AN ENGRAVING COMPANY RESTRAINED. Justice Smyth, in the Supreme Court, yesterday sustained an amended complaint in a suit brought by the New-York Bank Note Company against the Hamilton Bank Note Engraving Company and the Hamilton Bank Note Engraving Company and the Kuder Press Manufacturing Company to restrain the Hamilton company from using certain presses manufactured by the Kidder company, so as to be able to compete with the plaintiff company in strip next printing. The suit is also for an accounting. The plaintiff." Justice Smyth says, "is entitled to recover the reasonable dumages which have naturally accrued by reason of the breach of contract, and the measure of damages, it appears, is the actual profit which has been made by the Hamilton company by the printing of strip tickets upon the presses purshased from the Kidder company. The plaintiff is also entitled to a decree enjoining it from solling presses of its manufacture, known as the Kidder perfecting press, and enjoining the Hamilton company from using the presses.

"Two years ago I was living in Seattle, and heard many stories about the great amount of wealth lying around loose in Alaska. Being fond of adventure, I started out with a party of five.

All of my companions have been successful, some more so than I. One of them has gone into the saloon business, and he is making about 1800 a day.

Some days he takes in thousands of dollars. The present population of Dawson City is about five thousand, and is growing rapidly, I cannot see how there will be food and shelter for all that are going there. My advise for all is to refrain from going until the sprime. I intend to go back next March, but this is a great deal safer through the winter months."

CHILDREN'S DAY AT MANHATTAN BEACH. Before the season ends at Manhattan Beach, and of it will be brought to a close next Saturday night with a great autumnal disafternoon at 5 o'clock to all the little ones and their escorts who will visit Manhattan. They will at this free entertainment have an opportunity of seeing how the Japanese, Chinese, Malays and Americans fly kites, enjoy the fun of greased-pole climbing for gold watches, see tub races with geese elimbing for gold watches, see tub races with geese on the lake, laugh at the funny anties of the clowns, wonder at the daylight fireworks of the Japanese and partake of the hospitality of Professor Weizman, who will make one hundred pounds of candy for them on a wire in midair.

The regular gaia performance at night will be of a miscellaneous character, and will be of much interest to old as well as to the young folks. Fairyland will be shown in its brightest colors, Palmer Cox's Brownies will make their appearance in fire, the cow that lumped over the moon after leaving Noah's Ark will do some wonderful tricks, and, altogether, it will be a great night.

KILLED BY A FALL AT ATLANTIC GARDEN. Thomas Sweeney, thirty-nine years old, an iron-worker, of No. 153 Grand-st., Jersey City, fell through a skylight at the Atlantic Garden, No. 50 Bowary, yesterday, and was instantly killed. Sweeney had gone to the place with some friends to see one of the men employed on the building. In the roof are half a dozen skylights opening on the concert hall below. Sweeney fell through one of these without seeing where he was going.

ATTEMPTED UNDERVALUATION.

Another case of attempted fraud upon the Government by undervaluation, or improper classification, was discovered yesterday by the United States Appraiser at this port. This is the fourth case which has been discovered in the last two weeks, and applies to the importation of Mexican tobacco.

bales, certified to be filler tobacco, which, as entered by the importer, would pay about $2,242.50 in duties. As returned by the United States Apin duties. As returned by the United States Appraiser, this importation would pay duties to the amount of about $5,052.50, without penalties.

In connection with this, it may be interesting to note that the United States Appraiser is in receipt of many letters regarding the recent exposure in this line, which indicate that the discoveries thus far made are well known to certain branches of the trade. Some of these letters indicate that the same conditions exist at other ports of entry.
